

SUDDEN DEATH

NEAR THE FRENCH CREEK PLACER CAMP.

John Griffin, an Ex-Cavalry Sergeant in the Queen's Cavalry, Expires on the Road. Nothing Known of His Family.

A man by the name of John Griffin was found dead midway between Camp Hattersley and Captain Keating's French-creek placer camp March 30.

He had started to go across the trail from French creek to Camp Hattersley with a companion. When about half way he was taken suddenly very sick, and his partner went on to Hattersley, and Captain Keating and R. C. Markley returned with him in a rig in which to take the sick man to camp, but when they arrived he was dead. They took him to Keating's French creek camp and sent a runner to Tip Top after Justice of the Peace Simpson, who arrived yesterday morning and summoned a coroner's jury and held an inquest. The verdict of the jury was that deceased had died of heart failure.

On his person was found papers showing that he had been color sergeant in the Queen's Cavalry. He also had an order for a gold medal for gallant service while serving in South Africa, which he had never presented. Deceased was 51 years old and a native of the Isle of Jersey. He was a stranger in the locality where he died, having worked at Keating's camp only two months. The funeral took place at the camp yesterday morning. Colonel F. C. Hatch reading the burial service of the Church of England.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.

But by the Carelessness of the Officers Allowed to Escape.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE REPUBLICAN.

HARRISBURG, A. T., March 28, 1891.

On the morning of the twenty-seventh inst. Deputy Sheriff Hamilton with a posse of men started out on the trail of some horse thieves, reported to have come from the Horse Tanks country, where they had been rustling for about two months. At about 4:30, Hamilton, John Crosby, John Ambrose and E. S. Baker run on to two men encamped by the side of the trail, near the northeast corner of the Hagua Hala mountains. Upon arresting the two men, one of them was found to be the notorious Alexander Mayo, who about four years ago stole some horses off the Martinez range, and who was also connected with the Barney Martin murder.

The two men having been disarmed, the band of stolen animals, consisting of thirteen burros and one horse, were headed toward Harrisburg. They had not proceeded far when Mayo, who had been permitted to ride his horse and assist in driving the burros, pretended to be herding in some of the strays, and when a short distance from the officers, put spurs to his fleet-footed animal, and dashed across the plains into the hills and escaped.

The remaining man (a Mexican) says that he was employed by Mayo to drive stock. Several head of valuable horses have been stolen along the Colorado and Pimosa country, and it is generally believed that another division of them are driving the horses toward Mexico.

MILLER ARRESTED AGAIN.

This Time Charged With Robbing the United States Mail.

Deputy United States Marshal B. B. DeNure left for Yuma yesterday afternoon, where he will meet officers from Los Angeles with Henry Miller, who is wanted in Florence for robbing the United States mail.

Miller was convicted in 1888 and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for "holding up" the stage between Florence and Casa Grande, in November of that year, and robbing the Wells Fargo box and relieving Dr. J. M. Hurley, of San Bernardino, California, of his cash. He was recently pardoned, when complaint was made charging him with robbing the United States mail, for which offense $1000 reward will be paid to the one securing his conviction. When he was released at Yuma, after his pardon, he went to California, where he was captured by United States Marshal Gard.

LOOKS BAD FOR HIM.

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Henry Miller, who was captured by United States Marshal Gard last week, will be given an examination before the United States Commissioner Saturday next, on the charge of robbing the mails at Casa Grande, Ariz., in 1888. Captain Thacker, of Wells Fargo & Co.'s detective force, today identified some retort gold found in Miller's pockets, as that taken from the express box by the man who robbed the stage near Weaver'sville, Cal., last month.
